(G) Tangkhul Tangle (1/2)

Tangkhul is a language spoken in the northernmost district of the Indian state of Manipur. Like Manipuri (or Meithei) and many other languages of Northeast India, Tangkhul is related to Tibetan and Burmese rather than to Hindi, Bengali, Marathi, Gujarati, or other well-known languages of India.

Tangkhul words can be very long and quite complicated in their structure. Sometimes single words may have to be translated with whole sentences in English. Also, pronouns (words like he, she, it, and they) can be left out if their meanings can still be filled in from context. Following are a list of sentences from Tangkhul and their English translations (in alphabetical order). In the English translations, pronouns are enclosed in parentheses when they are left out of the Tangkhul sentences. Tangkhul, unlike Modern English (but like Old English), distinguishes three different grammatical numbers: singular (referring to one person or thing), dual (referring to two persons or things), and plural (referring to three or more persons or things). The abbreviations sg., dl., and pl. indicate “singular,” “dual,” and “plural,” respectively.

- G1. Match the Tangkhul sentences with their English translations by writing the number of the English translation by the corresponding Tangkhul sentence (8 points)
